

Fouke and Elizabeth his wife, and Henry and Louis Fouke, reported that the committee had had said bill under consideration, and were of opinion it ought not to pass.

It was read the second time, when,

On motion of Mr. Mayer,

The following amendment was read and dissented from:

Add, to the end of the bill, the following proviso;

"Provided however, That no decision that may take place, by virtue of this act, shall affect the rights of any parties, except the parties to the case, or their heirs or representatives."

On motion of Mr. Sappington,

The bill was read the third time by special order, rejected, and returned to the House of Delegates.

The Senate proceeded to consider the unfinished business of Wednesday last, being the bill entitled a supplement to the act entitled, an act to define and enlarge the powers of courts of equity.

The following amendment heretofore proposed by Mr. Wootton, was read and assented to:

In the 2d line of the 3d section, strike out the words "or shall have issued."

On motion of Mr. Forrest,

The following amendment was read and dissented from:

After the word "that," 1st line of the 3d section, strike out to the end thereof, and insert

"The act entitled, an act granting appeals from the court of chancery, and from the several county courts, as courts of equity, passed at December session, 1832, chapter 197, be, and the same is hereby repealed."

The bill was then ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

On motion of Mr. Emory,

The bill entitled, An act to repeal all such acts or parts of acts as go to alter the mode of appointment of the justices of the levy courts of the several counties of this state, was taken up for consideration:

The amendment heretofore proposed was read, and Mr. Pigman moved to amend said amendment, by inserting the words "and Allegany," after the word "Cecil," and it was determined in the negative.
